SOURCE
March 25, 2010
Meeting Minutes

Officers Present
Teresa Slobuski, co-president
Erin Uhl, co-president
Alex Tretiak, secretary
Melanie Miller, treasurer

Teresa ran through the upcoming SOURCE events:

March 26- Tour of the Grolier Club, elite bibliophiles club in NYC, at 11 AM with J. Fernando Pena, a former SOURCE member.

April 1- From 6-7, Marija Dalbello (SOURCE Faculty Advisor) will have an open advising session in the Student Lounge.

April 15- The Digital Project Director of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania will discuss their digitization efforts from 2:30-3:45 in the Faculty Lounge.

Erin described the April 16 trip to Firestone Library, expressing hopes that it will cover all the divisions of Special Collections.

Teresa stressed that students should RSVP for the April 17 conservation workshop, as there is limited space. This workshop will deal specifically with paper conservation, will run from about 10-3, and will involve a small materials fee.

April 30- There will be a tour of the Morgan Library, around 1 or 1:30. This will include time in the reading room and conservation center.

Teresa and Erin discussed professional and regional events:

April 14- Conservation Center for Art and Historic Artifacts (CCHA) workshop on conservation of unusual formats in Philadelphia at 9:15.

April 19- A book repair for general collection workshop will be hosted by METRO NY at 10:00AM, dealing with physical repair for practical use.

April 29-May 1- MARAC will be held in Wilmington, DE. For around $35 students can explore many different interests in depth.
May 11-14- The American Institute for Conservation of Historic and Artistic Works Annual Conference will be held in Milwaukee.

May 25-26- NEDCC will be held in Cambridge, MA. A SOURCE member noted that this tends to be a rather expensive conference to attend.

June 2-4- New York Archives conference in Poughkeepsie, NY. A SOURCE member noted that this is a very affordable conference.

June 29-30- CCHA will hold two day workshop on photo identification and preservation in Baltimore. This involves workshops and smaller meetings.

Teresa and Erin have tentatively scheduled the next meeting for April 22.